Dear Christopher,

I'm writing to apply for your IT Operations Associate position, which I learned about through Handshake. This role feels like a perfect match for my experience in system administration and education in cybersecurity, and I'm excited about the chance to bring this experience to Momentum.

I'm in the process of obtaining my Bachelor of Science in Cyber Security at the University of Tulsa, and I will graduate this spring. Beyond my education, I've assisted in configuring and maintaining virtualized environments for cyber courses here at the University of Tulsa, ensuring stable and secure access for both students and faculty. I have also performed vulnerability assessments and helped with the development of in-house SOAR software as part of my prior work with Southwest Power Pool. I'm confident I could apply my skills in threat analysis, my knowledge of network protocols, and my expertise in system administration to support Momentum's IT security operations and maintain system integrity.

I also have skills in digital forensics and documentation, which I gained through my experience at the National Computer Forensics Institute. Additionally, it is my understanding that Momentum is searching for someone who has proven leadership experience, and I believe that I can comfortably say that I fulfill this qualification. I am the incumbent president for the University of Tulsa's chapter of Women in Cybersecurity, and I also serve as the Special Events Officer with our other cyber club, Root66Tulsa.

My internships, education, and extracurriculars combined have helped me immensely to build a strong foundation in cybersecurity and IT processes in general. I've attached my resume, which further details my skills and educational background. I'm eager to speak with you about the contributions I can make as an IT Operations Associate at Momentum; please don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions about my background! I look forward to the opportunity to speak with you further—thank you truly for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Atley Wright
